

Tipperary On My Mind

Hello friends you're welcome here tonight
I was just thinking about home
And I could use some company all right
Sometimes it's hard to be alone

Now you may say I live on memories
That I may seek and never find
And maybe that's how it's meant to be
And I got something on my mind

Chorus:

I'm living here in New York City now
And I get lonesome now and then
Those city lights won't dim those memories
Of Tipperary on my mind
The dream gets stronger with each passing day
For the love of what I left behind
Those city lights won't dim those memories
Of Tipperary on my mind

Manhattan's tall but not like Galtymore
Big city strangers pass you by
There's no place on earth like home sweet home
And out of sight's not out of mind.

Chorus

Those city lights won't dim those memories
Of Tipperary on my mind
