

Can't Turn Back the Years

It's funny how a year ago seems like a month or two
And you're talking to the neighbours how the last few days just flew
The clothes you bought some time ago by now are out of date
As the tick-tock on the mantle tells you that the clock won't wait

Chorus:

No you can't turn back the years, they're gone forever more
And all we have are memories of the time that's gone before
We don't know what the future holds but one thing is so clear
That no matter what you do in life, you can't turn back the years

The milk you thought you just had bought has just about turned sour
As the news comes on the radio, there goes another hour
Something new comes on the market, we seem so far ahead
But a year or two and it's replaced by something new instead

Chorus

8 BAR SOLO & KEY CHANGE

The cup of coffee in your hand by now is turning cold
It proves that time is slipping by and we are getting old
As you look into the mirror, and the lines start to appear
One thing is for certain that you can't turn back the years

Chorus x2

No matter what we do in life, you can't turn back the years.
