It's so cold, here in Chicago
Wind can cut you like a knife
Another Dime, another Dollar
What a way to spend your life

She was young and I was restless
I set of to win the world
Said goodbye to my Virginia
And my Blue Ridge Mountain Girl

You can see her standing by the window
And there's nothing sadder in the world
Than those green eyes, all red from crying
Of my Blue Ridge Mountain Girl
