

Beneath The Rising Sun

There's a small part of me
That still holds a dream
A dream I know never will come true
And it's not that long ago
Since you said you loved me so
But now you've gone and found somebody new

And you're not to blame
At love's cheating game
It was me that drove you away
Now I sit at the bar
With this bottle in my hand
And I still think of you everyday

Chorus:

I'll get over you when it's over for me
When my race in this life is run
I'll get over you when it's over for me
When I'm sleeping beneath the rising sun

I know that you love me
Right from the start
But that chain on love has broken in two
There's only so much that anyone can take
And darling I broke your heart in two

Now you can face this world
With your head held high
It was me that caused you the shame
You did all you could, but I was too blind to see
And too drunk to shoulder the blame

Chorus x 2

I'll get over you when it's over for me
When I'm sleeping beneath the rising sun
