

I See An Angel Everyday

I've never been to heaven and walked those streets of gold
I haven't seen the pearly gates or heard them call the roll
I've never heard an angel band or trumpets when they blew
But I see an angel everyday when I come home to you

CHORUS:

They say an angel's body is one thing you can't touch
But they don't know about the one that touches me so much
They say angels can't be seen but I know that's not true
I see an angel everyday when I come home to you

SOLO + NEW KEY

An angel's not supposed to wear cowboy boots and jeans
Or ride around in pickup trucks they fly around with wings
Someone left the gates to heaven open wide one day
And I'm the lucky man who found the one that got away

CHORUS:

I see an angel everyday when I come home to you
