

Be Nice To The People You Meet

It's easy to bury your head in the clouds
While resting your feet on the stars
Forsaking true friends for the fortune you've found
You may even forget who you are

So blinded by fame and the sound of your name
You can't see the stones on the ground
So be nice to the people you pass going up
You could meet them when you're coming down

Chorus

If you should meet someone who's lost in the dark
Give them a candle that shines
And take time to dry the tears someone else cries
For all it will cost is your time
And give them the warmth of a God given smile
To help them get up from the ground
And be nice to the people you pass going up
You could meet them when you're coming down

Instrumental

Remember the people who gave you a hand
When you started to climb to your dreams
And remember the ladder of fortune may break
No matter how strong it may seem

For friendship and love is worth more than gold
As many a rich fool has found
So be nice to the people you pass going up
You could meet them when you're coming down

Chorus

If you should meet someone who's lost in the dark
Give them a candle that shines
And take time to dry the tears someone else cries
For all it will cost is your time
And give them the warmth of a God given smile
To help them get up from the ground
And be nice to the people you pass going up
You could meet them when you're coming down

Chorus

If you should meet someone who's lost in the dark
Give them a candle that shines
And take time to dry the tears someone else cries
For all it will cost is your time

Key Change

And give them the warmth of a God given smile
To help them get up from the ground
And be nice to the people you pass going up
You could meet them when you're coming down
Yes be nice to the people you pass going up
You could meet them when you're coming down